LONDON MILITARY OBSERVERS BELIEVE:

Allies May Strike In Burma, China

To Relieve Threat To Singapore

LONDON, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Intensified air assaults from Burma, on Japanese bases in Thailand and deployment of Chinese forces in Burma, with Chungking's promise of more troops when needed, led military observers tonight to the belief Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell might be preparing an offensive in both Burma and China to relieve Singapore.

Such a drive from Burma would imperil Japan's air, land and sea bases in Southeast Asia. It would not be a frontal resistance but the Japanese power drive in Malaya and Burma will serve to allow the Allies to move.

The battle carried to the Japanese in Thailand and Indo-China would be in the nature of a flanking maneuver to attack both to ease the pressure on Singapore and rob the Japanese of some of their driving power in Malaya. Such a move, such as a move against the East Indies.

FORCE DIVERSION

Japanese moves of success against the NEF with an attack before the ABCD powers can muster their resources, military observers point out. Undoubtedly an offshoot of the Japanese plan, China still would force the Japanese to divert great numbers of troops.

If a combined Burma-Chinese drive is started it will be the joint work of Gen. Wavell and Gen. Chiang Kai-shek. Both men, in Gen. Wavell's domain as supreme commander in the southwest Pacific but Allied operations in China are Chiang's to supervise.

Recruit Rush Here Is Part Canada Drive

Swelling volume of callments in the Canadian Army (Active), experienced in Edmonton has been reflected in the colors in recent weeks. This is made apparent in the announcement by Defence Minister Balderston that "recruiting in Canada is growing steadily."

The defense minister said that 6,700 men had joined the army in December, with about 1,000 enlisting in the first two weeks of January.

Enlistments made by the heroic defense made in Canadian units at Hong Kong, entry of the United States into the war, and the latest news received from overseas are thought by Defence Minister Balderston that "recruiting in Canada is growing steadily."

The defense minister said that 6,700 men had joined the army in December, with about 1,000 enlisting in the first two weeks of January.

There were 10 men before medical boards at the recruiting head-quarters in Edmonton on Tuesday. That same day, another 10 men were in line. Friday there were 22 more in line.

AIRPORT PROTECTION

Gen. Wavell was asked about the formation of specially-trained airport guards in England, said he did not know what arrangements would be made. He said that airfields and facilities he said it was a question for the air ministry to decide.

The minister also stated that definite knowledge of the fate of the determination of the British to make through all possible channels of communication to obtain details of casualties, he stated.

Talk Of Conscription Seen Indication Full War Effort Discussed

By B. T. RICHARDSON

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—Forecasts of a decision by the government in favor of a referendum on conscription or to apply conscription outright, are an indication that the war effort in its widest terms has been under discussion in cabinet.

There have been no announcements from the cabinet and there is every reason to believe that no decision with respect to conscription or National Service has been made. There is good reason, on the other hand, to believe that the decision, if made, will be delayed at least six months, at most, and maybe probably six weeks.

STUDY CONTRIBUTION

So far as we can learned the cabinet discussions, in particular, have focused upon the formation of Canadian air force strategy of the world war. What is the greatest contribution Canada makes to the war? What foodstuffs and so on? What is the combination of them?

Paralleling the discussions, in particular, have been the discussions in cabinet, into Canada's war potential. There have been already a number of major reports, and a new and more comprehensive study is being made. The problem of applying the principles of the world and Japan's immediate objectives.

Simultaneously, the British command announced seven causals.

Many Fires Left Burning In Brest

LONDON, Jan. 9.—(CP)—The French fire, burning in the German occupied naval base at Brest, France after a strong Royal Air Force bombing last night—the fourth consecutive night of attack on the unoccupied coast of the north of France north of Paris, capital, crude rubber capital of the world and Japan's immediate objective.

The announcement said the submarine attack occurred early on New Year's Day, after Royal Air Force bombers had destroyed a number of ships in the harbor.

The air ministry commented that the docks at Cherbourg also were bombed.

The British planes failed to return.

Ten airmen were given awards for attack on Brest. The Germans when they were hit on the Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, should several enemy aircraft and accurate anti-aircraft fire and determined attacks by enemy fighters.

New Order Restricts Tire Sales

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Minister of Munitions and Supply announced today the temporary ban on tire sales will be replaced by a new order restricting the sale of tires, castings and tubes.

The new order, issued by J. R. Mitchell, deputy controller of supplies, said that except for use by doctors, nurses, ambulances, police and fire departments, mail trucks, mobile service units, news trucks, tractors, farm tractors, bicycles, and tubes other than those used on bicycles, how may be sold.

Taxi owners, department stores, bakeries, bread and coal companies and all others delivering direct to the home, will have to get along with used tires or do without, the order said.

The order becomes effective Jan. 5 and supersedes the temporary ban which went into effect Dec. 11.

Persons eligible to buy new tires and tubes must, at the time of purchase, prove their need in a form authorized by the controller of supplies and must present a used tire ticket or a receipt for a tire from the spare tire rim. They are not allowed to accept payment for the old tire.

LONDON TIMES TAKES STAND

Europe's Organization Rests With Great Britain, Russia

Firm Lead By Powers Is Expected By Democracies:
Will Be Warmly Endorsed

By WIS. WILLIAM H. STONEMAN

The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The slightly vague account of his Moscow visit broadcast by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden on Sunday night, was followed Monday by an editorial in the London Times asserting that the "initiative and responsibility" for the organization of Europe "will rest with Great Britain and Russia."

While approving Eden's statement that the British government did not intend to reach any "final decisions" regarding future ways and means of European organization, the London Times adds that the "obligation to consult others need not become, as has sometimes happened in the past, an excuse for indecision and delay."

2 Siege Rings Are Broken By Soviet Forces

23 miles east of Leningrad, where the Neva river flows into the Baltic.

The canal itself, a link in Russia's Baltic-to-Atlantic waterway system, extends 100 miles eastward to Lake Ladoga.

In the Crimea, Red army troops who stubbornly defended Stalingrad's great Blagoveshchensk fort, were repulsed after two months, were reported saluting forth and crushing the Germans' own siege positions.

LADOGA OFFENSIVE.—Dislodged from Kulyabev, the alternate Soviet capital, said the Sevastopol garrison broke out and turned westward, while the Germans without orders, next day advanced on the Russian's own siege force, to combat the Russian counter-invasion from the Kerch peninsula.

Russia, Soviet government newspaper, reported that the German had been beaten at Stalingrad, perhaps 105,000 troops—an approach to Stalingrad in mid-December and threatened to break through to the Black Sea on Dec. 27.

Martins said the Soviet Black Sea fleet drove them back, however, and the Germans were reported now facing the prospect of a complete withdrawal from Crimea or being caught in a trap.

Sea-borne Russian troops were said to be landing at many points east of Stalingrad, while the Sevastopol garrison itself drove the German back to its fortifications and called for state-of-emergency.

NAZI MACHINE BROKEN.—Amid these sweeping triumphs, the Moscow radio this afternoon declared:

"The enemy continues to retreat in many sectors. Today a great number of men, tanks, trucks and guns.

"The initiative has been taken at last by the Red Army. The German machine is broken."

Gen. Wladimir Sikorski, Polish prime minister, declared yesterday that his countrymen would see the Germans hurled back to a defense line anchored at Smolensk, 35 miles west of Moscow, and said he had information that 12 of the 22 armored divisions Hitler sent into Russia had been wiped out.

Interpreting War News

of Moscow. The glittering spectacle of a dozen tanks, some 100 men in uniform, on capture, some 150,000 German front line division, is pictured by Russian spokesmen and British correspondents.

THREE TO NASH.—The exact position of the lines in either sector is not determinable.

That the Nazis have already raised the curtain on their war in Poland is doubtless to the rear is clear. The long-beleaguered Red garrison of the big Polish city of Warsaw has taken the offensive, breaking out of the Redoubt, silent ring to harry retreating Nazis.

A Russian thrust southwest out of Kaluga to Meshchovsk in the Moscow area is in line threatening to cut off the Nazi bulge in the Molotov bulge. It appears in the case of Poland the understanding here has been that the Premier of Poland-in-exile, Gen. Wladimir Sikorski, and Stalin came to an agreement some time ago that the Nazis' German allies would take the offensive, breaking out of the Redoubt silent ring to harry retreating Nazis.

FRONTIER PAGE.—There is another evident reason why the British have quibbled with them over their demands. In the case of Poland the understanding here has been that the Premier of Poland-in-exile, Gen. Wladimir Sikorski, and Stalin came to an agreement some time ago that the Nazis' German allies would roughly follow the old Czarist line.

FRONTIER PAPER.—At Moshkovsk the Russians are within close reach of the Rivey-Vyazma-Bryansk general line which runs north to the front line in the Molotov bulge. It appears that the German holding front on the southern sector of the Moshkovsk bulge is in full retreat.

The Russians are reported already pushing westward to Moshkovsk toward Novgorod. At the same point the British are pushing north to intersect the Erzhevka-Moscow-Malaya Riveria main line. This is the line the German holding front on the northern sector of the Moshkovsk bulge.

It would represent a dangerous closing of the Red trap behind the Nazi division pinned in the bulge as the Russians sweep north from Sverdlovsk.

Expect Long War.—HELSINKI, Jan. 9.—(AP)—A long drawn-out battle for a long war and protracted hardships, the news over Ural Suomi warned yesterday.

WHY APPROPRIATION?—The approval of the Appropriation Bill by the House of Commons on Friday night, was followed Monday by an editorial in the London Times asserting that the "initiative and responsibility" for the organization of Europe "will rest with Great Britain and Russia."

While approving Eden's statement that the British government did not intend to reach any "final decisions" regarding future ways and means of European organization, the London Times adds that the "obligation to consult others need not become, as has sometimes happened in the past, an excuse for indecision and delay."

The approval and concurrence of the Commonwealth and the United States is also being studied by a group of experts from both these bodies who are reaching cabinet within three weeks.

Naturally the pattern of the war effort decided upon will largely depend on the resources available. It cannot be made to greatest contribution in war industry, raw materials, labor, etc., must take place in these activities and there consequently have to be a limit on the military manpower.

Under such conditions, Mr. Winston Churchill did much to clarify the cabinet discussions. The Prime Minister has said that the personnel goes without saying. Both services will rise top in any long term war plan.

INDUSTRY EMPHASIZED.—Apparently Mr. Churchill placed the strongest emphasis, after air force and navy, on industrial expansion. This is the condition of the same British policy in India, the colonies, and primary responsibility will rest with the Government.

Naturally the pattern of the war effort decided upon will largely depend on the resources available. It cannot be made to greatest contribution in war industry, raw materials, labor, etc., must take place in these activities and there consequently have to be a limit on the military manpower.

Under such conditions, Mr. Winston Churchill did much to clarify the cabinet discussions. The Prime Minister has said that the personnel goes without saying. Both services will rise top in any long term war plan.

War Emergency Is First Says B.C. Premier

VICTORIA, Jan. 9.—(CP)—Premier John Hart, addressing the regular session of the Legislative Assembly, declared that "possible differences of opinion" among the Conservative and Liberal members of his cabinet "are unimportant compared with the emergency with which we are faced in connection with the war."

In his address, Premier Hart said he was "confidently looking forward to an administration of the various departments of the provincial government which will be able to meet the needs of the people of this province."

Getting In Good Company

More than 500 men applied in two days for enlistment in the Royal Canadian Air Force, as the recruitment drive continues. Men came from points all over central and northern Alberta, many from the Peace River area. This is said to be the greatest rush of recruits since the beginning of the war. While this caused the rush at this particular time, the fact is highly creditable to the young manhood of the province, and it is to be hoped the station will continue to be the recruiting point for application.

Canadian airmen have won high distinction from France to Norway, in company where win distinction they have to be good as the best. Every day and every night they are flying over enemy territory, with a gratifying low loss record. The men who fly against them will have to be a war to a finish—they finish as states powerful enough to be dangerous. To defeat them is not enough; they must be destroyed, body and soul, and potential military power. By no other course can security be established.

A Finnish spokesman has said it was "impossible at present to make any official pronouncement" on the correctness of the report that Finland is now disposed to make peace with Russia. If this is supposed to be a denial of the report, that means he has to be read into it.

Temptation is strong to believe reports of trouble in the enemy camp. But Hitler, his generals and their Hitler, the Führer, are too arrogant and too circumstantial to be altogether ignored. There certainly was a reason for the dismissal of Brauchitsch, and the only probable reason for that gives credence to the report that the dismissals of a half dozen more of the men who won the Führer's victories and made him master of western Europe. Brauchitsch deserves to be dismissed, but others who have been named in dispatches deserved to be retired for the same reason.

To restore imperial Germany and Kaiserism and all the pretentious ambitions of the Prussian Junkers.

Since Kaiserism is exactly the same thing as Hitlerism, it is hard to see what the Nazis could gain by promoting such a change.

It is true that the Prussian military class might induce the German people to use Hitler for its own purposes.

Light Program Of Legislation At New Session

A total of 40 bills were introduced in the new session of the Legislature, which opened yesterday.

The main reason for this is that recent legislation, which was introduced in the previous session, has been revised and consolidated by cabinet ministers for the second session of the ninth Alberta legislature, which opened yesterday.

This revision was brought about by cabinet ministers, who were asked to submit their bills to the editor of the Alberta Gazette for examination and revision.

As a result of this, the main bill, which was introduced in the previous session, has been revised and consolidated by cabinet ministers.

It is also expected that some minor changes will be made in the new session.

In new legislation due to come before the house, one of the main acts will be a bill to authorize the incorporation of the Imperial Oil Co. in the Peace River district, completed the program of the corporation for the oil fields in the Peace River area.

Other bills will be introduced in the new session.

First Photos Of United States Troop Convoy Crossing Pacific Ocean

Their lifebelts a constant reminder of the dangers of the trip, soldiers and civilian technicians line the rail of a giant transport carrying them to reinforce American defenses in the Pacific. Fellow transport and accompanying destroyer are in background.

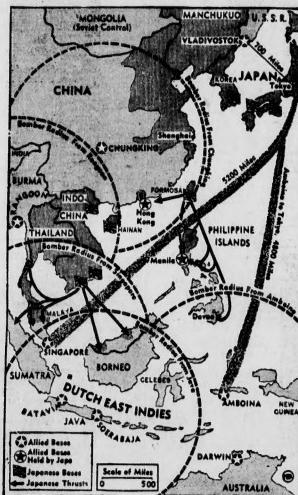

Their hazardous journey across Pacific war zones safely behind them, servicemen with a U.S. convoy jam rails of their transport to wave greetings as they arrive somewhere in Pacific. Lifeboats, swung out on davits for instant launching, speak of trip's dangers.

Allies Lose Bases In Orient

Loss of Manila and Hong Kong, only allied bases on the China Sea, puts the Allies under additional distance handicap in the Orient. Map shows how only part of Japanese territory is within Allied bomber range unless Russia grants use of Vladivostok and other Far East bases.

How Singapore Defenders Slog Malaya Swamps

Australian troops use tiny boats on forest streams for quick transit through the roadless Malayan jungles. These are some of the British Empire troops defending the approaches to Singapore.

This make-shift, fragile-looking village of bamboo huts will house refugees from Singapore now that Jap planes have started bombing the great British naval base in the Far East. The huts are built in a haphazard manner to withstand the tropical heat and humidity. The villages are probably the only ones anywhere in the world that have been erected exclusively for evacuees. Although they offer no protection from a bomb, the huts have been spaced so that if one is ignited, the others may be spared.

London Still Cleans Up

Without a major Nazi blitz in eight months, London continues to clean up devastation caused by heavy raids earlier in the war. Buildings damaged by bombs are pulled down and all metal taken away for conversion into munitions. Here's scene near St. Paul's.

Japs Pay Big Price To Win Opening Month

Initial Japanese successes outweighed those of the Allies in the first month of war in the Pacific, but heroic American soldiers, seamen and flyers in the Philippines took a big toll of enemy troops and ships while Dutch bombers and submarines hit hard at Nipponese warships and transports. Map spots major actions.

REFUGEE — By Vida Hurst

NANA DUVAL, orphan refugee is being courted by Steve, a newspaper reporter who obtained a job for her. She is a widow, Mrs. Mary Pepper, heartbroken over the death of her husband, Mr. Crawford's father, POLLY STANLEY, who died last November. Nana is disengaged. Also contributing to her present state of mind is the fact that she is the chauffeur. JAMES, a cop and pick up, has been following her around. He is trying to interest her in him. He is a gambler, a drunkard, and because he is engaged to BETTY, daughter of the police chief, he is afraid that Mark Pepper has "key-trailed" and found out about his past. Steve is a good man, though he holds a black a prospect. He is Christmas Eve. Unable to find work, he has taken a place as a reporter. Nana starts to pay him living expenses. Meeting him at the office, she names him to her apartment to regain her engagement when Steve would do for a beginning. Later walk in. Both men leave and Nana knows that Steve has misinterpreted. She goes to him and they talk it all out together and she tells him she is going to meet with Mark Pepper. Steve goes along with her. When Steve is seen by Mark later he comes to the door and tells him he is leaving. Steve is puzzled. After getting a job, Nana decides to start a Spanish class as a hobby. Steve is surprised. He is a newspaper reporter and is waiting. Another girl also is waiting.

Glancing quickly at the girl seated beside her, Nana immediately recognized her. This was Steve's fiancee. She had a right to wait for Steve as Nana Du Val hadn't.

CHAPTER XVI

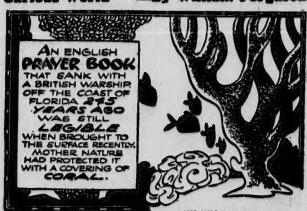

Steve is surprised, but holds no recognition. The girl in the elegant costume with violet pinned to her coat laid little resemblance to the black clad, weeping figure Steve had seen once before. She had been in love with that other occasion. Had he spared Nana's feelings by waving Steve into her father's office but

Curious World — By William Ferguson

2. BLACK WIDOW THE ONLY GROWING SPIDER IN THE UNITED STATES.

Nana's mind had registered a picture of the other girl.

This was Steve's fiancee. She had a right to wait for Steve as Nana Du Val hadn't. Recalling "polly" seriously, Nana supposed that her fiancee was Steve's mother. She understood. And not wishing to cause Steve any more trouble she rose and went to the advertising desk. It was still too late for the final edition but was to appear the following day.

"Sorry," he said. "Thought I could make a score. Now we'll just have to think of something else. Here you actually broken your engagement?"

"Steve broke it," she confessed. "Met broke it. But why?" He read his answer in her face. "I'm not the man you want to marry. But he knows I'm engaged to you."

She burst into tears wistfully fastened upon his face.

"But you said you didn't want me to marry him, Steve. You told me it was a mistake. I thought you'd get it off your chest."

STEVE IS GLAD

"Oh, I am," he assured her and as he spoke suddenly it was the truth. Steve was glad he had his much time and effort it might cost him. Unreasonably and illogically he did not want to marry Mark Pepper. And yet that was the way he would do all he could to be her. Certainly no one could object to his taking care of her.

And there were several odds on the paper might persuade the public to accept her as a wise child, so simple in some ways, so innately wise in others. He would stand by her. And if she would go along without him, then he would gradually fade out of the picture.

The girl was simple. The self-deception a man can practice under such circumstances, and Steve was no exception to the rule. He felt trapped when he saw the relief on Nana's face.

Sitting at the desk in her room Nana could change it. On the way to her hotel she told herself she had done everything she could, but Steve was still pondering over it when the telephone rang, and he heard Steve's voice.

"What? Did you run away from me? I didn't want to bother you, that's all."

Steve said briskly. "You must have had some reason for coming to see me. What was it?"

"The knowledge that you wanted to speak with me again," she replied. "I just put an ad in your paper."

"Yes. I am taking your advice and going to try to give Spanish lessons."

SIGNIFICANCE The silence as the full significance of this remark penetrated Steve's mind. Nana waited happily for the shock of the blow to register, and what he jeeringly referred to as his "water self." The shock of knowing the girl he had been in love with was still pondering when he was in at present was a shock, but Steve said nothing. "Well, that's great, Nana. This means that your marriage is off!"

"Yes," she said happily. "And I'll have to find another place to live now. I can't afford to stay here any longer."

When an announcement of an engagement has been made, the newspapers print the announcement and the engagement is broken, what is the result?

Answer—A notice is sent to the newspapers in which the announcement is printed and read something as follows:

"Mr. and Mrs. John Smith announce their mutual conclusion of the engagement between their daughter Mary and Mr. James Brown is at an end."

It is necessary for both parties to the engagement to be dignified in this matter. The girl and man gracefully shake hands and then the girl returns the engagement ring. If returning presents have been received, they are returned.

The girl may also write brief notes to the friends who attended the engagement party saying that "the engagement has been broken. She need never give an explanation."

No Hindrance In Farm Work Chamber Plea

A resolution asking that the "proper authorities" consider the manpower of the nation in such a manner that war draft men may in no way interfere with the production of essential farm products, originally passed at the first meeting of the agricultural committee of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce earlier in the week, was endorsed by the chamber council at their annual meeting yesterday.

Following is the text of the resolution in part:

"Be it resolved that the opinion of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce in the Agricultural Section at this time has come for the proper authority to consider the manpower of the nation in such a manner that men not physically fit to enter the armed services of the nation be requisitioned and trained, when necessary, so that they may be used in the complete war scheme."

REQUISITION WOMEN

"And also that the woman-power of the nation be similarly requisitioned, so that the responsibilities they have are carried to a discharge."

"Further, that special compensation should be given to competent, experienced farm help until such time as labor can be trained to take over their responsibilities."

War Encourages Hopeful Anxiety

"Root of Our Social Trouble" was the theme of an address by Rev. W. G. Lyle, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Edmonton, delivered to members of the Edmonton Optimist Club at their monthly meeting at the Macdonald Hotel. Thursday morning.

Bishop Barfoot warned that every home must be faced with either with a certain amount of hospital anxiety. The present war has done much to encourage that type of anxiety, he said, and many people feel their sense of security invulnerable and their sense of value unchanged.

As soon as hardship is overcome then mankind will cease to exist as such, he declared, and turn to inhumanity, he declared.

To attain too much social security would lead to undependable type of society, he said, he was warned.

Peace-foot was introduced by Dennis McLean. Cliff Lee was president of the Optimists, presented a gift.

Bombing Practice By Air Students

Bombing practice at a range west of the city on the Winterburn Indian reserve, near Yekat Lake, is being carried on at students at No. 2 Air School.

Seg. Ldr. William C. Kent, officer commanding the school, stated that the students, who are given a puff of smoke when they hit, are used. Students take the bombing practice at the end of their course when their navigation studies have been finished.

Students now report losses at other schools in bombing practice. Formerly all bombing training had been taken at gunnery and bombing schools.

He criticized the "poor record" of the chamber, and the chamber's seemingly explaining the completeness of social security can only be obtained when the chamber is reorganized.
